

Contract Budget Oversight

Like many areas of clinical business operations, contract budget management and out-of-scope reporting remains stuck in Excel and outdated custom-built solutions. Manual budget tracking and communication handovers, limited visibility into actual activities, milestones completed, and future spend insights are frustrating to stakeholders in Business and Clinical Operations, Finance and Project Management. Adding to the process inefficiencies are significant audit findings, financial misreporting and extended Change Order negotiation timelines. It is time to change this costly, labor-intensive methodology.

Clinical Maestro LEAD is the pharma industry's first automated platform for contract activity reporting at the unit level to dynamically track study progress, actuals tracking, invoice reconciliation and study forecasting directly from clinical service provider reporting. LEAD provides a single source of data for all stakeholders to review and analyze, to better predict change-orders and gain control over contract budget management and forecasting.
